RE: Corporate and Website Update

DATE: December 20, 2023

Though I definitely would have preferred to be posting this shareholder message on our new website, I am reminded of the words drilled into me by my 3rd grade teacher roughly fifty seven years ago, which were "Jobs done by halves are never done right!"

Those words are as relevant today as they were then. With that said, am going to allow the website development team a few more days to design, build, test, and re-test the features of our new website. They have convinced me that it will be well worth the wait to unveil the entire website all at one time, instead of simply posting the new investor relations section as I had previously intended to do.

In the meantime, the rest of your new management team will continue to press forward to remodel and refurbish MineralRite. Our goal is simple -- to review everything that prior management has done over the years and adjust anything and everything that needs to be adjusted -- so that this company will have a clean and solid foundation upon which to build its future.

Once that has been completed, we will look to infuse, develop and acquire new, on-going, and profitable streams of business. We intend to parley that activity into the development of other projects and asset rich acquisitions. Our focus is, and will remain, to build MineralRite into what it should truly be: a value added member in the supply chain of mineral and mineral derived commodities -- promoting, through honor, ethics, morals and integrity, the recovery of strategic elements from underutilized, undervalued and untapped mineral resources and feedstocks.
